criteria. In Ghamidi's theology, God has perfect knowledge (ṣahīḥ) of the past, the present, and the future. Allah describes this knowledge as follows: "Allah is a witness over what He reveals to you." The knowledge of the past, present, and future was given to Moses. Ghamidi teaches that this is the knowledge of events that happen in a short period of time; for instance, the events of a day or a month. This includes the knowledge of what will happen in the future. He wrote his first book in 1978. His other works include Majmua-i Haqqani, Maqāmat, Tafseer-e-Jalalī, and Ghāmī-i Tamamī. It is reported that he has over ten books in his bag.

Ghamidi has gone on to have a vast following in Pakistan. He has also been closely associated with the Muslim scholars of India. He has been working on the Tafsir of the Qur'an since 1972.

To this day, he maintains his association with many scholars in India and Pakistan. For several years, he was the vice-chancellor of the Islamic University of Madinah Al Mahdi in Saudi Arabia. Ghamidi's debates on the Qur'anic verses have made him an important figure in Islamic circles. His lectures have gained him a massive following in Pakistan. His last book was published in 2005, which has collected over 100 lectures from his seminars. He has authored more than 10 books, and published several textbooks. He is also the former chairman of Darul Uloom Deoband, and a member of the board of Islamic Research. Ghamidi is one of the most famous and significant Islamic scholars in Pakistan. His views are widely criticized and rejected, both inside and outside of Pakistan. Ghamidi's followers are mostly from Pakistan. He has a huge following in North India and West Pakistan. He is one of the scholars who have contributed significantly to the development of the Islamic teachings in Pakistan. The use
