This finding is consistent with the results of a study on Siberian hamsters. This study reported that Kiss1r is expressed in the gonadotropin-producing cells of Siberian hamsters, but Fshb is expressed in the granulosa cells ([@b7-ajas-27-7-1759-17]). Our results suggest that the reproductive system of female Jerk is sex specific. In contrast, the reproductive system of female Mongolian gerbils showed no sex-specific expression patterns. This result is inconsistent with previous reports on the sex-specific expression of gonadotropin genes in the gonadotropin-producing cells of Siberian hamsters, where Kiss1r was expressed in the gonadotropin-producing cells of both sexes ([@b7-ajas-27-7-1759-17]). In this study, we detected the expression of fshr and fshb in the pituitary, consistent with previous results for the Siberian hamster ([@b9-ajas-27-
