It will also feature any new extended cut of the game's ending, including that a new ending.American voters have said in a new poll that they believe there are too many immigrants in the country. Republicans and Democrats disagree on the number of immigrants that should be allowed into the country, but they seem to have similar opinions on the issue. A new NBC News/Marist poll found that only 9 percent of Republicans and Republican-leaning voters support admitting immigrants from all countries and places, while 51 percent of Democrats and Democrat-leaning voters support it. ADVERTISEMENT Sixty percent of Democrats, however, say the U.S. should adopt policies that allow immigrants from some places and not others. The share of Democrats who want to limit immigration to immigrants from places like Europe is a record high. Immigration remains a divisive issue for Republicans, with 57 percent saying that more immigrants will help the country, while only 37 percent say they will hurt the country. But only 3 percent of Democrats agree that more immigrants will help the country, and 69 percent say more immigrants will hurt it. Sen. Lindsey Graham Lindsey Olin GrahamSenate GOP aims to confirm Trump court pick by Oct. 29: report The Hill's Campaign Report: GOP set to ask SCOTUS to limit mail-in voting Senate GOP sees early Supreme Court vote as political booster shot MORE (R-S.C.), who is in a tight reelection fight against Democratic challenger Catherine Templeton, has been a frequent critic of President Obama's immigration policies. Graham was one of only three Republicans on the Senate Judiciary Committee to vote against legalizing gay marriage. He has called for the deportation of illegal immigrants, said he wants to see Obama removed from office for allegedly supporting it, and has said he regrets voting for federal protections for the LGBT community and against a citizenship pathway for illegal immigrants. One in 10 Americans, or 10 percent, say they favor "dropping from the moon" immigrants who are in the U.S. illegally, according to the poll. "What we are seeing here is that it's a safe issue for Republicans, it's a safe issue for Democrats," said Lee Miringoff, director of the Marist Institute for Public Opinion
